Membership Categories & Benefits

NPA Southwest is a membership-based trade association that encompasses and is open to persons or entities involved in, or associated with, the nutritional food, dietary supplements and related products and services industry. We along with our national organization represent the industry's interests to regulators, policymakers, the media, and the public.

As an NPA Southwest member, you'll receive timely and accurate industry news and information and be eligible to participate in association programs. You will also immediately expand your network and have something in common with hundreds of other businesses in the natural products industry.

Membership Categories

Persons or firms involved in, or associated with, the nutritional food industry may apply for membership in one or more membership categories of NPA-SW. A person whose business is based in the NPA Southwest and whose business qualifies in one of these categories is eligible to vote in NPA-SW elections and on other business, provided their NPA membership is current.

Voting Categories

Retailers: Those primarily engaged in the independent retailing of nutritional products from self-contained store(s) where a minimum of seventy-five percent (75%) of the gross sales consists of nutritional foods, food supplements and related items.

Non-Voting Categories

Nutritional Professionals: These individuals, based in the NPA Southwest, are as follows: nutritional counselors, chiropractors, physicians and naturopaths. Educators, authors and lecturers in nutritional matters are included. Applications will be reviewed.

Associate Membership: Available to persons or firms furnishing non-consumable goods, such as shelving or cash registers, and services, such as store design or business consulting, to the nutritional food industry.

Allied Groups: This includes certain organizations that are active in health and related fields, and support some of the same efforts as NPA-SW.

Publishers: Membership is available to the owner/managers of firms based in the NPA Southwest and engaged in printing and circulation of material to the nutritional food industry.
